

Networking for success in Russia

First social network of senior managers in the Russian business now online

Moscow – (ujk). Seniorus.net is a highly practical and free of charge internet-platform that has been on the net since March 2008 and can be used by Russia-professionals to net up with each other online.

Everyone seeking for or offering contacts, information, support or hints regarding the Russian business can upload their profile at no cost and immediately start creating online-contacts with a growing number of members, regardless of industry, location and role.

As a registered member you can create groups and forums on topics of your interest, share files (i.e. photos, documents), create and invite for events and publish your personal weblog. New areas like classified ads on job opportunities and accommodation are being implemented.

A built-in messaging system makes sure communication between members is safe and spam-free.

Search queries for contacts use members' profile data on their industry and other information stored in their personal profile. The volume of entered personal data always remains up to the individual member.

The social network platform is being hosted on internet servers in Germany ensuring data safety according to German standards.

Offline-contact: Uwe-Jens Karl, cell. +7-985-7845482

Register now for free at <http://www.seniorus.net>

Networking for success in Russia

First social network of senior managers in the Russian business now online

Moscow – (ujk). Seniorus.net is a highly practical and free of charge internet-platform that has been on the net since March 2008 and can be used by Russia-professionals to net up with each other online.

Everyone seeking for or offering contacts, information, support or hints regarding the Russian business can upload their profile at no cost and immediately start creating online-contacts with a growing number of members, regardless of industry, location and role.

As a registered member you can create groups and forums on topics of your interest, share files (i.e. photos, documents), create and invite for events and publish your personal weblog. New areas like classified ads on job opportunities and accommodation are being implemented.

A built-in messaging system makes sure communication between members is safe and spam-free.

Search queries for contacts use members' profile data on their industry and other information stored in their personal profile. The volume of entered personal data always remains up to the individual member.

The social network platform is being hosted on internet servers in Germany ensuring data safety according to German standards.

Offline-contact: Uwe-Jens Karl, cell. +7-985-7845482

Register now for free at <http://www.seniorus.net>